Rob,

As a follow up to our email exchange below, I recall that the CPG presented a proposed approach for representing remediation in the model based on their updated mapping approach during the February COPC mapping meeting . The presented material included a potential approach for defining the fraction of a given cell remediated for a given RAL, and the associated reduction in concentration resulting from remediation. Could you please provide us with the material for our review.

Thanks in advance,

Jen

Jen:

For the February mapping meeting, there was no structured presentation. Instead the CPG showed individual figures as needed to support discussion of EPA's topic list.

Rob,

Could you please send me a copy of the powerpoint presentation from the February 2016 COPC mapping meeting.

I cant seem to find it in my email.

Jen:

For Wednesday - can we also discuss the following:

- Where the COPC Mapping stands?
- What is the status of the 8-mile ROD Model and the related information that the CPG requested?

Thanks

Rob,

Apologies for the delayed response - I had to take some leave late last week.

I have to touch base with Ray this morning to see if we could chat later today or tomorrow.

Jen:

Have you a time(s) for a call on Monday? Mike and I will be participating on the call. Bill is traveling that day.

Thanks
